Subject: Re: Ticket #36820213 – non-republication, legal POC, preservation

Hi Ananthu,

Thanks for the reply. Your templated “please flag it again” loop is not the issue. The issue is contradictory moderation and republication after notice.

Key points on record:

- The review at issue was declared removed, then treated as compliant, then “filtered,” then discussed as removed again. Your messages contradict each other while the content has cycled in and out of visibility.
- 12 Aug 2025 and 15 Aug 2025, verified customers report positive reviews suppressed or taken offline. The 15 Aug refusal email is in evidence. Treat these as Annexure A-12 and Annexure A-15.

Required actions now:

1. Non-republication undertaking
Confirm in writing that review ID 688d14d8f18ef096196c8c63 and any substantially similar content will not be republished, and that automated reinstatements are disabled for this matter.
2. Route to Legal only, single point of contact
Confirm you have routed all Legion Killfeed matters to your Legal team, provide a named legal contact and active reference, and stop parallel replies from Content Integrity.
3. Litigation hold
Confirm a preservation hold over all records and metadata for the reviews and decisions in scope, including internal notes, decision logs, moderation flags, queue rules, automated triggers, and staff identifiers.
4. Action log
Provide a log showing who removed or reinstated each item and when, including the 11–12 Aug flip-flops. Include the reason codes used by both human and automated systems.
5. Legitimate reviews
Either restore the legitimate customer reviews currently filtered or blocked, or provide review-specific reasons with a documented appeal path and timestamps.

Deadline

Provide written confirmation of items 1–5 by 6:00 pm AEST on 16 August 2025. If you cannot comply, escalate to your Legal team immediately. All further correspondence on this matter should come from Legal only.

Hello Anthony,

Thank you for reaching out to us. We understand what you are saying and the concerns you have raised.

In this situation, we can confirm that the review connected to this case has already been removed. However, if you are referring to any other reviews, we kindly ask that you flag them under the respective flagging reason so that our Content Integrity Team can assess the case and take the necessary action.

As we are a review platform, we can only take actions based on our guidelines. Please note that if a review is not flagged, replying to this ticket alone will not result in the removal of the review you wish to address.

Once again, we kindly request you to flag the review in question so that we can proceed with the appropriate assessment and action.

Kind regards,

Ananthu P,

Content Integrity Team

Subject: Remove This Defamatory Review Immediately

You've been told over 100 times now — this review is false, defamatory, part of a coordinated campaign, and technically impossible. I do not and cannot delete people's servers, and you know it.

[Uploaded image]

I've already flagged this, I've already responded publicly, and I've already provided multiple formal complaints and legal filings proving what is happening here. And yet it's still live. I don't care if this is a separate ticket. I have sent the ombudsman an 89 page PDF already, you are just making it grow larger.

Every time you delay action, I will respond again. Every time you pretend this is an isolated review and not part of an organised attack, I will escalate. Every time you ignore the law, I will add it to the growing list of evidence being submitted to regulatory bodies.

Remove this review now. I will continue replying and escalating until it is gone.

Hi Anthony Brodie,

Thanks for your inquiry about the review <<https://businessapp.b2b.trustpilot.com/reviews/688d14d8f18ef096196c8c63>> by Cunt, which you flagged for advertising or promotional content.

The decision

We've now read the review and concluded that the words or phrases you've identified follow our guidelines <<https://uk.legal.trustpilot.com/for-reviewers/guidelines-for-reviewers>> for the reason you flagged them. Therefore, we'll keep the review online and won't be taking further action.

Keep in mind that it's OK for a reviewer to name another company in their review, as long as they don't urge people to buy products or use services from that company. However, we don't allow reviewers to include promotional references such as marketing material, links, or discount codes.

Tell your side of the story

You can always reply to this review <<https://support.trustpilot.com/hc/en-us/articles/201836983-How-should-I-respond-to-reviews->> to help win respect and credibility. Replies appear alongside the review, so readers get the full picture from both a company's and reviewer's point of view.

If you have further questions, please reply to this email.

Thanks,

Subject: Remove This Defamatory Review Immediately

You've been told over 100 times now — this review is false, defamatory, part of a coordinated campaign, and technically impossible. I do not and cannot delete people's servers, and you know it.

[Uploaded image]

I've already flagged this, I've already responded publicly, and I've already provided multiple formal complaints and legal filings proving what is happening here. And yet it's still live. I don't care if this is a separate ticket. I have sent the ombudsman an 89 page PDF already, you are just making it grow larger.

Every time you delay action, I will respond again. Every time you pretend this is an isolated review and not part of an organised attack, I will escalate. Every time you ignore the law, I will add it to the growing list of evidence being submitted to regulatory bodies. Remove this review now. I will continue replying and escalating until it is gone.

Cunt, which you flagged for advertising or promotional content.

The decision

We've now read the review and concluded that the words or phrases you've identified follow our guidelines <<https://uk.legal.trustpilot.com/for-reviewers/guidelines-for-reviewers>> for the reason you flagged them. Therefore, we'll keep the review online and won't be taking further action.

Keep in mind that it's OK for a reviewer to name another company in their review, as long as they don't urge people to buy products or use services from that company. However, we don't allow reviewers to include promotional references such as marketing material, links, or discount codes.

Tell your side of the story

You can always reply to this review <<https://support.trustpilot.com/hc/en-us/articles/201836983-How-should-I-respond-to-reviews->> to help win respect and credibility. Replies appear alongside the review, so readers get the full picture from both a company's and reviewer's point of view.

If you have further questions, please reply to this email.

Thanks,

Are you genuinely this dumb or do you enjoy antagonising the people you force to use your system?

Look at this shit, that I have sent you, 19 times now. I am going to take this response as acknowledgement of my 19 emails that include the attached PDFs, which have now being forwarded to Danish Competition and Consumer Authority and the Australian Competiton and Consumer Commission, you are extremely liable for the defamation and I will be persuing further legal action.

Subject: Remove This Defamatory Review Immediately

You've been told over 100 times now — this review is false, defamatory, part of a coordinated campaign, and technically impossible. I do not and cannot delete people's servers, and you know it.

[Uploaded image]

I've already flagged this, I've already responded publicly, and I've already provided multiple formal complaints and legal filings proving what is happening here. And yet it's still live. I don't care if this is a separate ticket. I have sent the ombudsman an 89 page PDF already, you are just making it grow larger.

Every time you delay action, I will respond again. Every time you pretend this is an isolated review and not part of an organised attack, I will escalate. Every time you ignore the law, I will add it to the growing list of evidence being submitted to regulatory bodies. Remove this review now. I will continue replying and escalating until it is gone.

Hello Anthony,

Thank you for your message.

Please note that we assess each review based on the specific reason it was flagged. In this instance, we can see that the review has been flagged for not being based on a genuine experience.

Our team is currently investigating the case, and we will share an update with you as soon as the assessment is complete.

We appreciate your patience and understanding in the meantime.

Kind regards,

Ananthu P,

Are you genuinely this dumb or do you enjoy antagonising the people you force to use your system?

Look at this shit, that I have sent you, 19 times now. I am going to take this response as acknowledgement of my 19 emails that include the attached PDFs, which have now being forwarded to Danish Competition and Consumer Authority and the Australian Competiton and Consumer Commission, you are extremely liable for the defamation and I will be persuing further legal action.

Hi Anthony Brodie,

Thanks for your inquiry about the review <<https://businessapp.b2b.trustpilot.com/reviews/688d14d8f18ef096196c8c63>> by Cunt, which you flagged for advertising or promotional content.

The decision

We've now read the review and concluded that the words or phrases you've identified follow our guidelines <<https://uk.legal.trustpilot.com/for-reviewers/guidelines-for-reviewers>> for the reason you flagged them. Therefore, we'll keep the review online and won't be taking further action.

Keep in mind that it's OK for a reviewer to name another company in their review, as long as they don't urge people to buy products or use services from that company. However, we don't allow reviewers to include promotional references such as marketing material, links, or discount codes.

Tell your side of the story

You can always reply to this review <<https://support.trustpilot.com/hc/en-us/articles/201836983-How-should-I-respond-to-reviews->> to help win respect and credibility. Replies appear alongside the review, so readers get the full picture from both a company's and reviewer's point of view.

If you have further questions, please reply to this email.

Thanks,

Ananthu P,
Content Integrity Team

Subject: Remove This Defamatory Review Immediately

You've been told over 100 times now — this review is false, defamatory, part of a coordinated campaign, and technically impossible. I do not and cannot delete people's servers, and you know it.

[Uploaded image]

I've already flagged this, I've already responded publicly, and I've already provided multiple formal complaints and legal filings proving what is happening here. And yet it's still live. I don't care if this is a separate ticket. I have sent the ombudsman an 89 page PDF already, you are just making it grow larger.

Every time you delay action, I will respond again. Every time you pretend this is an isolated review and not part of an organised attack, I will escalate. Every time you ignore the law, I will add it to the growing list of evidence being submitted to regulatory bodies. Remove this review now. I will continue replying and escalating until it is gone.

Hi Anthony Brodie,

Thanks for your inquiry about the review by Cunt, which you flagged for advertising or promotional content.

The decision

We've now read the review and concluded that the words or phrases you've identified follow our guidelines for the reason you flagged them. Therefore, we'll keep the review online and won't be taking further action.

Keep in mind that it's OK for a reviewer to name another company in their review, as long as they don't urge people to buy products or use services from that company. However, we don't allow reviewers to include promotional references such as marketing material, links, or discount codes.

Tell your side of the story

You can always reply to this review to help win respect and credibility. Replies appear alongside the review, so readers get the full picture from both a company's and reviewer's point of view.

If you have further questions, please reply to this email.

Thanks,

Ananthu P,
