Statement to Trustpilot Regarding the False “Verified” Review

The review displayed under “Kyle – This bot was used to wipe my server” is objectively false, technically impossible, and legally actionable. The fact that Trustpilot has marked this review as Verified is itself misleading and damaging, because the reviewer has never used my bot, never interacted with my service, and could not possibly have experienced what they claimed.

Here are the core points Trustpilot needs to be confronted with:

1. The review describes an impossible event

The bot they are referring to does not have and has never had:

- any command capable of deleting channels
- any command that can delete messages
- any command that can remove roles
- any admin-level destructive functionality whatsoever

Discord permissions make this physically impossible unless:

- 1. An administrator manually gives a bot the “Manage Channels / Manage Roles / Administrator” permissions, and
- 2. The bot actually includes code that uses those permissions.

DayZ Multi Tool has none of that capability, and its publicly available source code confirms it. The actions described in the review could not be performed by this bot under any circumstances.

2. Discord retains audit logs for every destructive action

If a bot deletes channels, this appears in the Discord audit log with 100% certainty:

- The bot’s username would appear as the actor
- Each deletion (channel, role, messages) would be individually logged
- Every timestamp would be visible
- These logs cannot be faked

The reviewer has never provided a single audit log screenshot, because there are no logs showing my bot doing anything destructive. It did not happen.

3. The reviewer has never used my bot

The reply attached to the review already states this clearly:
They have never used my bot at all.

This makes the “Verified” badge factually incorrect and misleading. Trustpilot is presenting the review as tied to a real transaction or legitimate use of the bot, when no such transaction ever occurred.

That is either:

- a failure in the verification process, or
- a deliberate misuse of the verification system by the reviewer.

Either outcome makes the “Verified” label false.

4. The claim that “code was leaked online” is fabricated

The reviewer claims that leaked code showed “commands to delete channels and messages”.

This is verifiably untrue:

- The codebase has never contained such commands
- Multiple independent people have inspected the code
- No such functionality exists
- The claim is invented to create a false impression of danger

This constitutes defamation, because it asserts criminal or malicious behavior by the bot developer that is entirely fabricated.

5. The review asserts professional misconduct and intentional sabotage

The review explicitly states:

“The Admin/Owner of this bot used a command to wipe my server.”

This is not an opinion. This is a factual allegation of intentional damage and abuse of administrator power.

Because this never happened, it is:

- a false statement of fact
- reputationally damaging

- legally actionable in defamation law
 - re-publication after notice if Trustpilot continues hosting it

6. Trustpilot is responsible for re-publishing after notice

You have been notified with:

- proof the event is impossible
- proof the reviewer never used the bot
- evidence showing the review is fabricated
- evidence the underlying actions cannot physically occur

Continuing to display the review — especially with a Verified tag — is a fresh publication after notice, which significantly increases Trustpilot's liability under defamation law.

Concise conclusion to send Trustpilot

Here is the direct message version you can send:

This review is factually impossible, technically impossible, and legally defamatory. The reviewer has never used my bot, their claims cannot occur on Discord, and Discord's own audit logs prove no such event happened. Marking this review as "Verified" is misleading because no transaction ever occurred. The allegation that my bot wiped a server is fabricated and unsupported by any audit logs or evidence, and the claim about "leaked code" is entirely false.

Now that Trustpilot has been notified, continuing to display this review — especially with a verified badge — constitutes fresh publication after notice. You are knowingly hosting demonstrably false allegations of criminal-level misconduct. The review must be removed immediately.
