

Your appeal to the Oversight Board

UNREAD

ACTIVITY

You can ask for a review from the Oversight Board

Saturday, January 17, 2026 at 1:30 AM

If you believe that Facebook should have removed the post you reported because it's damaging for a group or issue you care about, you can ask the Oversight Board to review the decision.

The Oversight Board is not part of Facebook. This group of experts makes independent judgements about what should be allowed on Facebook.

The board receives requests from people all over the world and then selects a few cases to review that will help improve Facebook's policies.

You can ask for a review until February 1, 2026.

Reference number: FB-ECHYF0NR

You asked for a review from the Oversight Board

Today at 10:54 AM

The Oversight Board received your request to review Facebook's decision not to remove a post you believe is damaging for a group or issue you care about. You will be notified if your case is selected. This usually takes a few weeks.

If the board decides to review your case, the information you provide will be used to issue a judgment about what should be allowed on Facebook.

You will be contacted if the board needs more information from you.

You anonymously reported Joel Walker's comment for promoting violence.
