Kyle left a new review

Hi Anthony Brodie,

Kyle just left a new 1-star review of killfeed.co:

I viewed the website and tried to navigate it, but I encountered multiple errors when attempting to access the content. The site design looks like it needs improvement, especially because it does not appear to support mobile viewing. Some of the website colors clash with the background and text, making it difficult to read. There are also multiple areas of the site that distract users from the main content.
